One by One (Dani Ross Mystery #1) by Gilbert Morris

The term "guilt by association" refers to the idea that an individual is guilty of a crime simply because of his association with the person who actually committed it. The guilt by association meaning exists, not because of proof, but more because of an individual's assumption.

Guilt by Association - Definition, Examples, Cases, Processes

Akin to straw man arguments is guilt by association—Ross complains that a TV documentary about the alleged discovery of the 'Ark' gave the sceptics an easy target (pp. 165–167). The obvious implication is that it's all the fault of global Flood proponents, although ...
